KING OF THE WORLD? NO WAY, NO HOW!

Clearly President Trump's ego knows no bounds. The man craves absolute power, demands fawning kiss-ass compliments from world leaders, indulges in self-worship and threatens retribution for any personal slight.

Now this autocrat has gone a step further: With a vanity project titled the Board of Peace, Trump proposes tearing down the world order and remaking it in his own image. Originally, the U.N. Security Council saw this as a temporary organization specifically linked to the Gaza ceasefire and reconstruction. But now Trump's Board of Peace initiative has morphed into something else entirely.

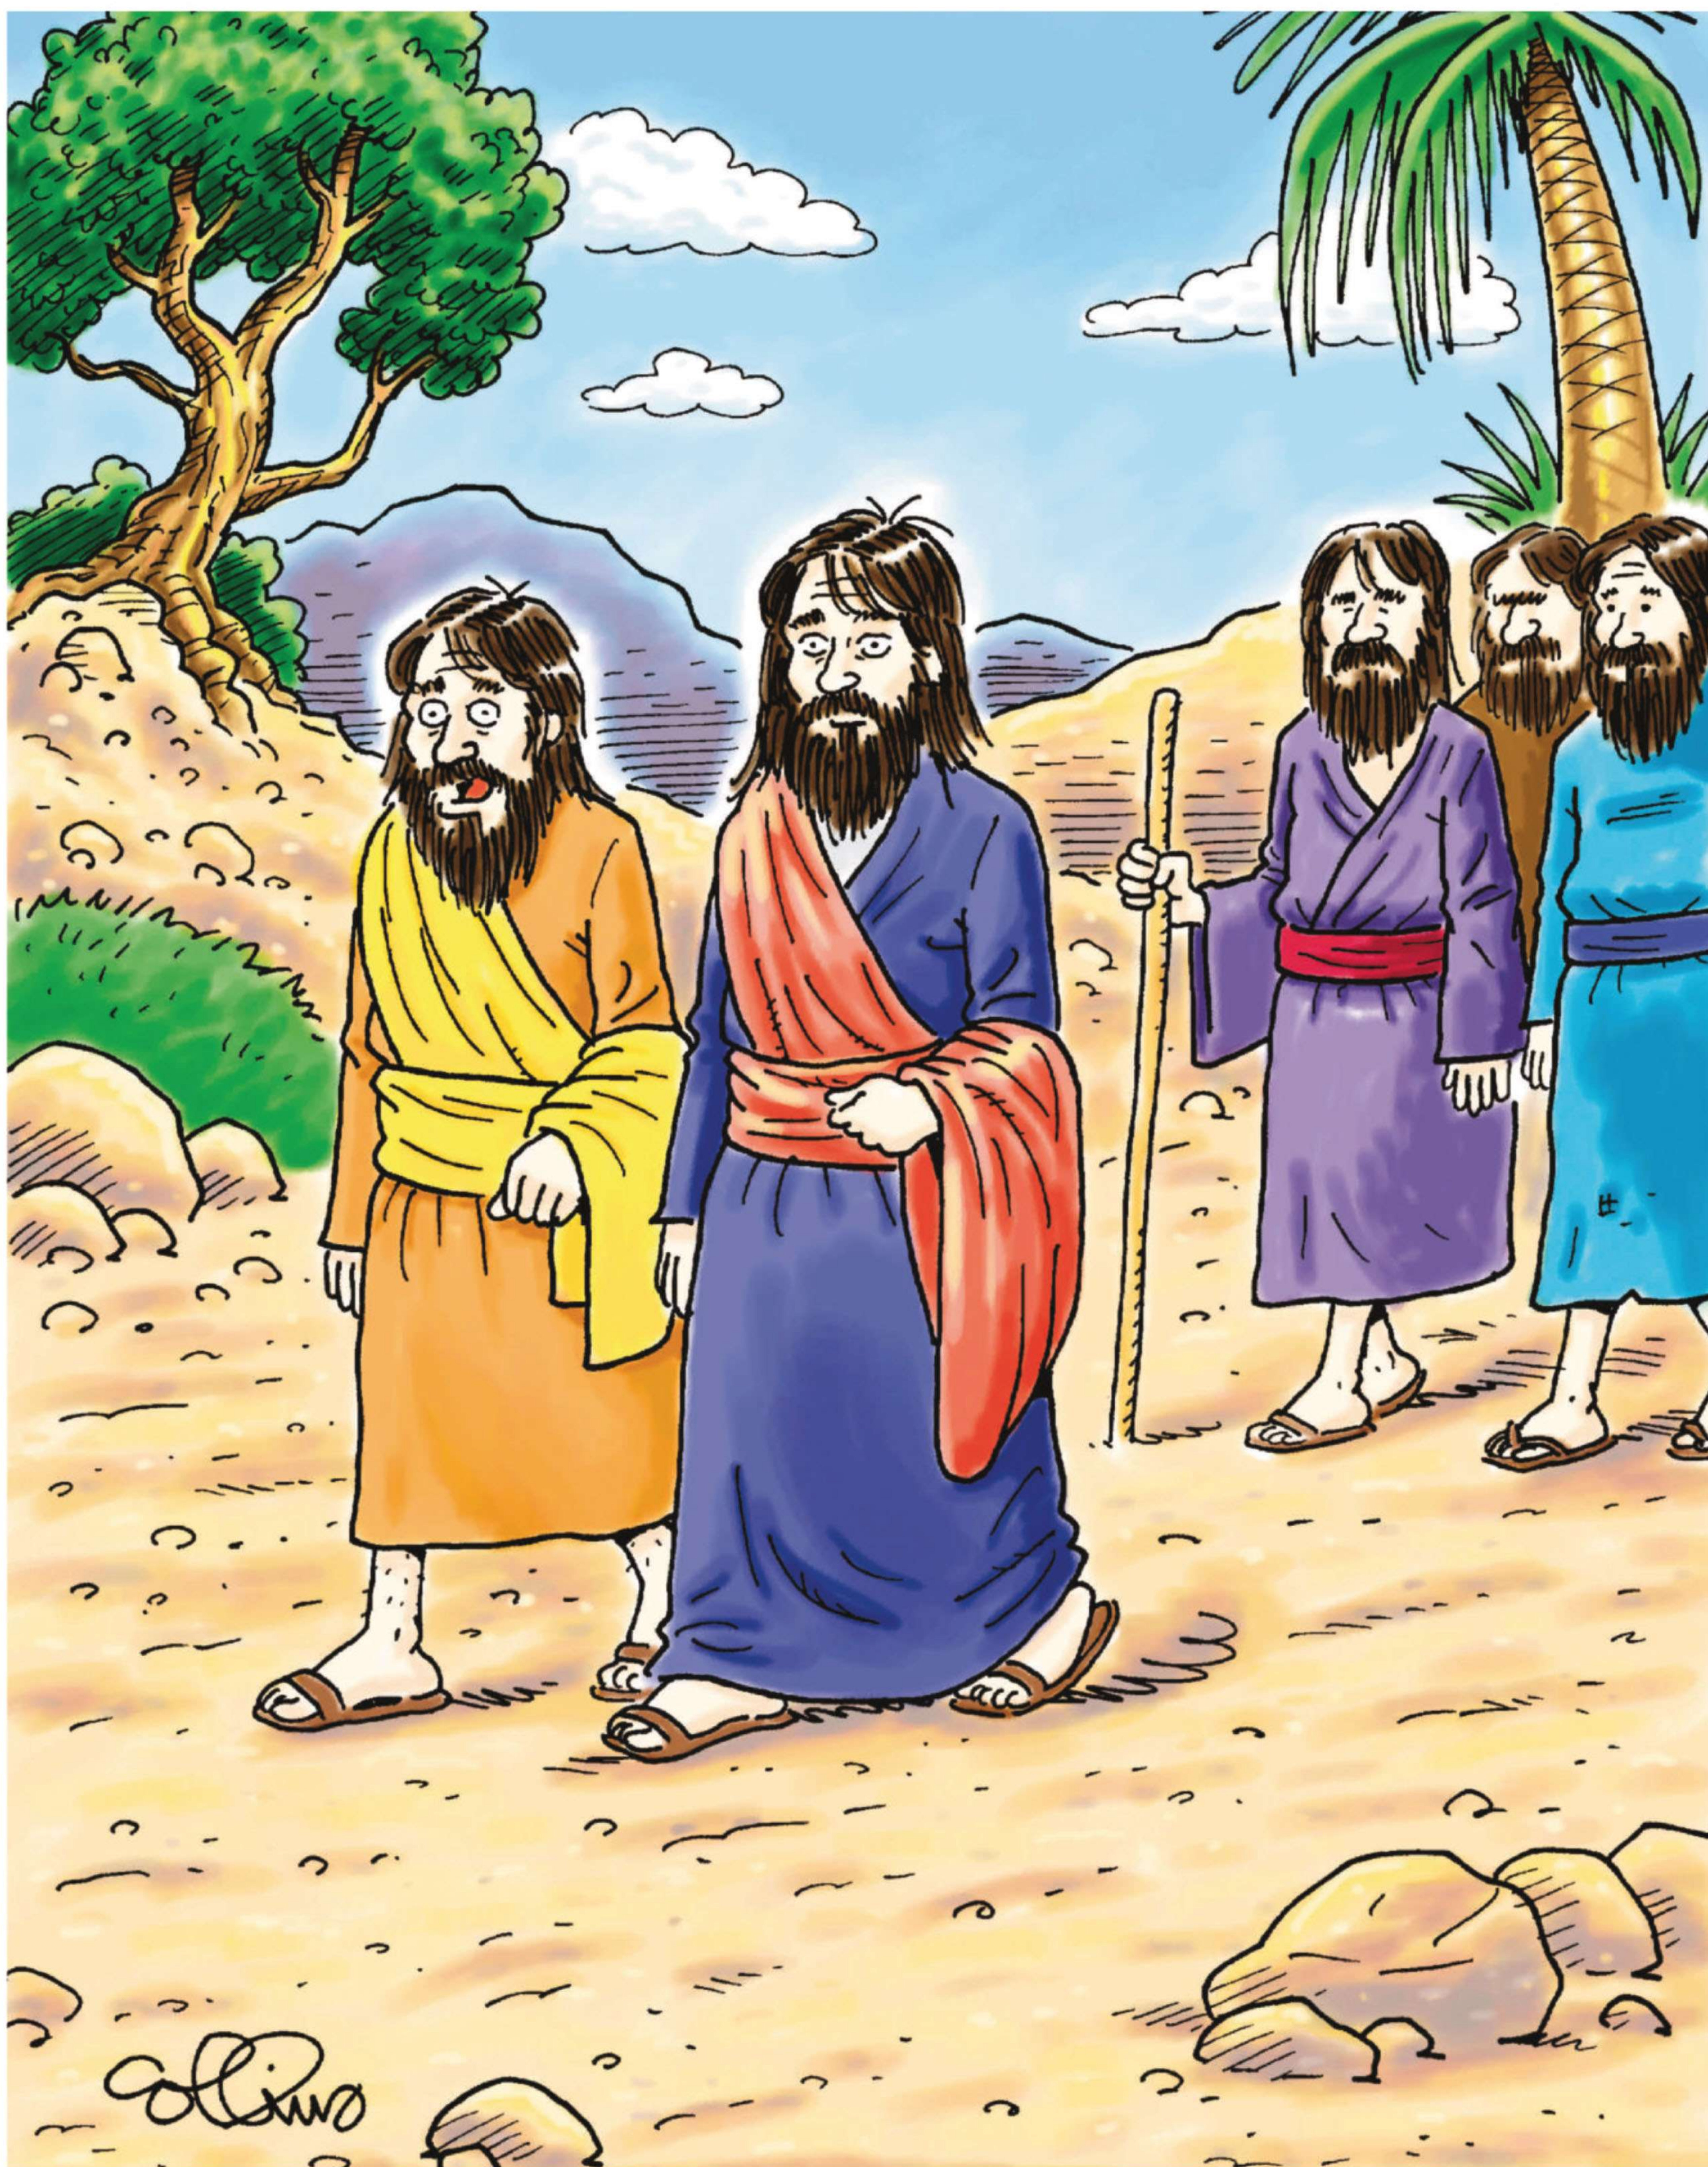

He is selling the charter as a permanent organization to undertake peace-building functions around the world in areas threatened by conflict. But Trump alone would control its membership, decision-making, Executive Board, everything. And not just for Trump's term as President, but for his lifetime and beyond, as he would name his own successor. Member countries would pay for access, to the tune of $1 billion, setting up a pay-to-play system, a billionaire's club that would prioritize the needs of the wealthy. In fact, if the plans Jared Kushner unveiled for Gaza at Davos are any indication, peace-keeping will look more like real estate transactions.

The thing is, we already have a peace-keeping council that has been in existence since 1945, following World War II: the United Nations. The U.N. has enjoyed great success in its peace-keeping missions, mediating in international crises and basically preventing World War III. It has eradicated smallpox, improved child and maternal mortality rates, championed human rights, facilitated disarmament treaties and climate action, supported newly independent nations and so very, very much more! Of course there are issues with the U.N.—bureaucratic inefficiency and the need for stronger accountability, to name two—but they can be resolved with reforms from within.

Instead, Trump is looking to replace the U.N., and the majority of the countries signing on are not democratic and are ruled by autocrats, like himself. We cannot let this happen! Central to stopping this man who would be king is turning the House come November. Vote!!!

"You know we all love you, Jesus, and think of you as one of the fellas. But that joke you tell with the rabbi and the hooker with the harelip, it's just sort of uncomfortable."

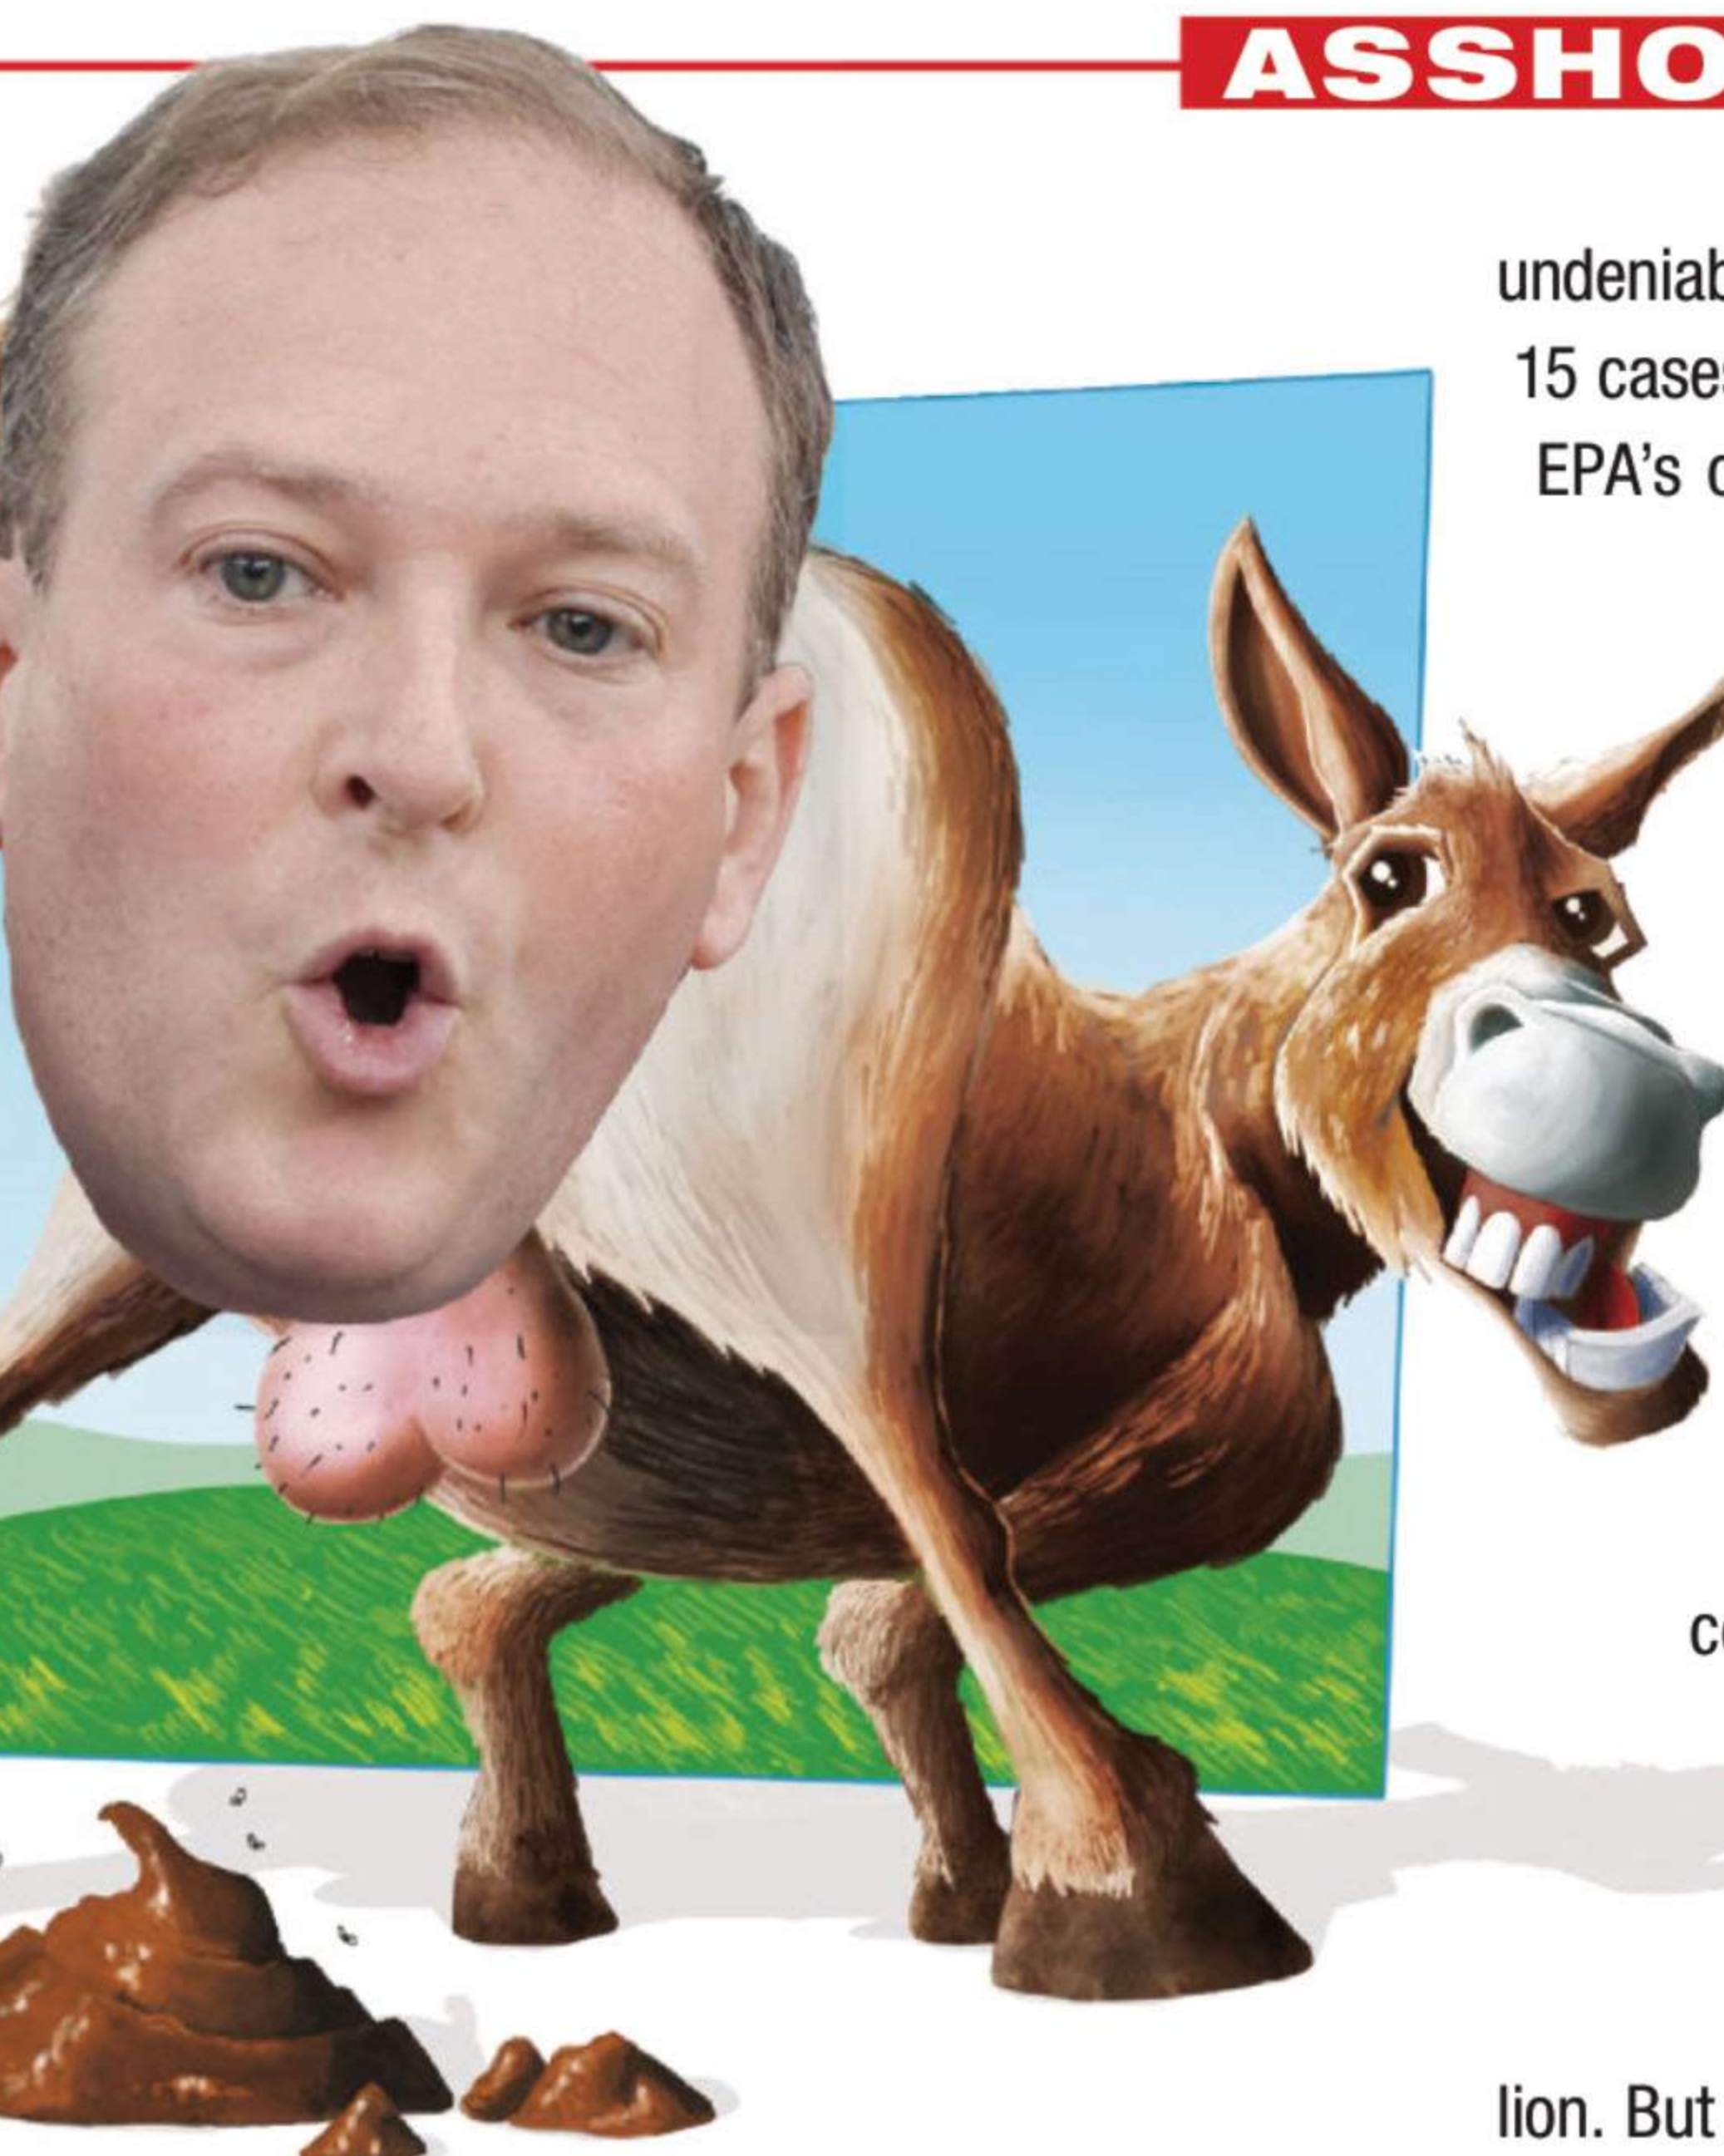

Many Americans have either forgotten or never knew that the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was founded in 1970 under the leadership of a Republican President—Richard Nixon. Although in private he often scoffed at environmentalists, Nixon recognized that protecting the environment was a serious bipartisan issue with broad support, as defined in his 1970 State of the Union speech: “The great question of the ’70s is, shall we surrender to our surroundings, or shall we make our peace with nature and begin to make reparations for the damage we have done to our air, to our land and to our water?”

Knowledge that man-made damage had been inflicted by industrial civilization was first widely realized eight years earlier by Rachel Carson’s groundbreaking 1962 book Silent Spring, about the hazards of pesticides like DDT. Then, in 1969, two tragic events accelerated environmental consciousness and water pollution controls: the gigantic Santa Barbara oil spill and the Cuyahoga River actually catching fire in Cleveland. For over 100 years since the birth of the American Industrial Revolution, we had ignored the massive pollution from our proliferating new factories and gas-guzzling vehicles.

Although modern technology has greatly benefited us, eliminating many chronic and endemic diseases, it has come with corresponding health costs. A century ago, lung cancer was almost unheard of; in 1920, only 956 cases were reported in the entire U.S. Today, it’s a leading cause of cancer deaths in both men and women. We’ve mostly conquered polio, smallpox and tuberculosis, but cancer rates in general are far higher now than in past centuries. Mostly this is attributed to the glut of toxic industrial chemicals polluting our air, water and food. In 2013, a Canadian agency tested the umbilical cord blood of three newborns and found traces of 55 to 121 toxic compounds, including PCBs, PFCs, pesticides, dioxins, lead and mercury!

The EPA administrator in Trump’s first term, Scott Pruitt, is generally regarded as the worst in the agency’s history. Aside from his insane crusade to roll back all environmental regulations that impeded corporate profits, the man was an ethical snake, spending over $3 million for a 24/7 personal security detail and renting a condo from the wife of an energy industry lobbyist for $50 a night. Those and other scandals led to his resignation in 2018. Now Trump has resolved to eclipse that sordid record with an even worse fox guarding the henhouse: former GOP House Representative from New York Lee Zeldin.

While serving in the House, Zeldin compiled the typical record of a right wingnut: He voted to defund Planned Parenthood unless it stopped providing abortion services in 2015; voted to repeal the Affordable Care Act; vocally defended Trump in his first impeachment hearing; joined an amicus curiae brief that encouraged the Supreme Court to overturn Roe v. Wade in 2020 and signed another amicus curiae brief that same year supporting the Texas v. Pennsylvania lawsuit that attempted to overturn Biden’s election victory.

LEE ZELDIN

Unlike his boss, Zeldin has never deemed climate change a hoax perpetrated by the Chinese. During his confirmation proceedings to lead the EPA, he actually said, “I believe climate change is real” and, “We must, with urgency, be addressing these issues.” Unfortunately, those sentiments were just polite bullshit to win over the Democrats in the hearing. Zeldin’s plan to “address these issues” is similar to the Republican plan to address our plague of gun violence—worthless thoughts and prayers while undermining the insufficient regulations we have on the books now.

Last July, Zeldin announced a proposal that the EPA would rescind the 2009 Endangerment Finding, which declared carbon dioxide, methane and all greenhouse gases to be potential threats to the health of human civilization. This Finding forms the basis for regulating emissions from vehicles, oil and gas facilities, and fossil-fuel power plants—the major sources of air pollution. Yes, as conservatives argue, CO2 is necessary for life on Earth, but then so is water, which can also be deadly in excess: i.e., floods and hurricanes. Zeldin’s legal-schmegal argument is that the EPA does not have the authority to regulate greenhouse gas emissions under the Clean Air Act, which is absurd, since the air is part of the environment and what more appropriate agency is there to regulate emissions?

The answer to that riddle, of course, is that Zeldin and fellow Trumpites do not want to regulate emissions at all. After a year in office, this conclusion is undeniable: the Trump Administration has settled just 15 cases of illegal pollution referred to the EPA. The EPA’s own enforcement and compliance database lists 2,374 major sources of air pollution that have not been fully evaluated in at least five years, including more than 400 sources judged to be “high priority,” plus almost 900 sources that exceeded wastewater discharge limits at least 50 times in the past two years.

Zeldin ridiculed the Endangerment Finding as the “Holy Grail of the climate change religion,” and promised its repeal would “usher in the Golden Age of American success.” Although he once voted to protect the EPA from Trump budget cuts, he now wants to cut it by more than half while promising that the rollbacks will save targeted corporations $39 billion. But EPA staffers estimate the rollbacks will cost $254 billion annually in public health and environmental expenses! Before his appointment, Zeldin stated, “I am someone who believes strongly that we should work with the scientists, leaving the science to the scientists.” But since becoming chief, he has shut down the EPA’s Office of Research and Development and purged hundreds of staff scientists and advisors. He has stated that his mission is to restore American energy dominance, bring back American automobile manufacturing jobs and make America the artificial intelligence capital of the world, all totally irrelevant to the agency’s one and only mission—protecting the environment! You’re the head of the EPA, not the commerce or energy departments, jackass!

Altogether, Zeldin has targeted 31 environmental regulations for reduction or elimination, everything from the Good Neighbor Plan (reducing smokestack emissions suffered by downwinders) to exempting known carcinogens like ethylene oxide from regulation. There is no way individual consumers can monitor and regulate the hundreds of harmful industrial toxins in our air, water and food. In the final analysis, what good is the supposed boost to your income from Trump’s damn-the-torpedoes economy if you’re diagnosed with cancer tomorrow or if your children suffer from asthma?

President George W. Bush’s EPA director, Christine Todd Whitman, sums it up: “If there’s an endangerment finding to be found anywhere, it should be found on this administration, because what they’re doing is so contrary to what the Environmental Protection Agency is about.” Yes, the greedy assholes have made it about everything except protecting the environment! Meanwhile, the planet is approaching the boiling point, and Trump and his EPA stooge not only refuse to stop adding fuel to the fire—they are spurting mega-gallons of gasoline on it! It feels like we are living in a strange 1984 Orwellian world, where the so-called Environmental Protection Agency is destroying our planet. H

SUN GODDESS

PHOTOGRAPHY BY
DAVIDE ESPOSITO

In Colombia, where I'm from, it's always hot, which is lucky for me, because I love being naked outdoors. I have a saying: 'Sun's out—buns out!' Aside from sex, there's no greater feeling than the warm sun on my bare skin. I'm definitely an exhibitionist, which is why porn is such a great fit for me.

"Another passion of mine is dancing, moving my body to the rhythm of music. This ass was made for shaking, whether I'm out on the dance floor or bouncing on a nice, fat cock. I especially love dancing to salsa and reggaeton. It gets my blood flowing and my heart racing—and, if I'm being honest, my pussy dripping.

"The thing that gets me hottest is the thought of all the people getting turned on by watching me perform. I never want to stop making my fans feel good. Believe me, guys, the pleasure's all mine!"

LARRY FLYNT PRODUCTIONS

Growing up, I was shy and awkward. I hung out with the theater crowd and didn't go on many dates. Getting into porn has really opened me up. I've gotten to explore my kinky side and hope to do more of that. These days, I take anal like a champ, and I've gotten really good at giving sloppy blow-jobs. I'll tell you something else too—my pussy has a nice, tight grip. When a guy is fucking me, it's like my snatch is giving his cock a firm handshake and telling him, 'Nice to meet you!'

"My favorite thing about being in porn, though, is the many great friends I've made. The XXX world is full of truly incredible people, and I enjoy meeting as many of them as I can. I'll tell you this—they are so much fun!"

WANDERLUST

grew up in Prague, so I was a little spoiled—the architecture, culture and energy of the city is amazing. Even so, I love to travel! I’ve been to so many beautiful places. Écrins National Park in the French Alps truly stood out; the nature there feels powerful and humbling, and it left a deep impression on me. If I could travel anywhere in the world, I’d choose the United States. Its cultural and natural diversity fascinates me.

“I’m pretty low-key in my free time—I sleep, read, cook, watch TV shows and recharge. I’ll spend time with friends or family and occasionally go on little outings. Nothing flashy, just calm moments that keep me grounded. One thing that’s not calm about me: the music I listen to. I like nu, doom and death metal, as well as hard techno. I listen to music so heavy, it feels like I should burst into flames if I tried to enter a church!

“In relationships, support is the foundation for me—knowing my partner is there, at my side, no matter what. Beyond that, it’s the small, thoughtful gestures that make me feel truly loved. Making breakfast without being asked, remembering something I casually mentioned and turning it into a surprise, or noticing practical little things, like buying me gloves in the winter because my hands are always cold. Those quiet moments of attention mean everything to me.”

ORGY GIRLS HOW TO PLAN THE PERFECT FUCKFEST LESSONS FROM THE PROS

BY JOHN BLAYLOCK

EVERYONE HAS A SEXUAL BUCKET LIST. MAYBE YOU SECRETLY DESIRE TO JOIN THE MILE HIGH CLUB? PERHAPS IT'S A THREESOME WITH YOUR S/O'S BEST FRIEND? PEGGING, BDSM, PUBLIC SEX—THE HEART WANTS WHAT IT WANTS. SOME FANTASIES, HOWEVER, ARE HARDER TO PULL OFF THAN OTHERS.

IF YOU'VE ALWAYS BEEN ORGY-CURIOUS BUT NEVER HAD THE MEANS OR KNOW-HOW TO BRING YOUR FUCKFEST TO FRUITION, THEN CONSIDER THIS YOUR LUCKY DAY. FROM THE MOUTHS OF ADULT INDUSTRY EXPERTS, HUSTLER PRESENTS A ROAD MAP TO PLANNING A PORN-TASTIC ORGY THAT IS SAFE, FUN AND SEXIER THAN EYES WIDE SHUT AT THE ONE-HOUR 14-MINUTE MARK. WELCOME TO THE PARTY!

KAZUMI

From her legendary birthday orgy to the time she accidentally joined a sex cult, Kazumi is the Richard Attenborough of fucking: always exploring new horizons while expanding her own. So what is the magic formula? Hot guys, sweet snacks and lots of towels.

HUSTLER: Do you remember your first orgy? How old were you?

KAZUMI: I was 19. A Tinder date brought me to my first sex club. It changed my life completely—it was maybe the first time I felt like the world made sense, and I was hooked. I started going frequently, if not to participate, then at least to hang out and meet new people. Soon my friend and I were throwing our own sex parties at the same club: first on Tuesdays and as we gained in popularity every Friday.

At what point did you strike out on your own?

When we lost the location, the parties continued at our apartments. Hell, I'd bring most of my first dates to an orgy for shits and giggles.

How many orgies are we talking about here, Kazumi?

Hundreds. Countless. I've probably had more group sex than most people have normal sex. I joined the adult industry just over two years ago, and my career is very much an extension of my love for live sex in front of strangers.

Explain the “who” of an orgy: Who gets to be in the room, who gets to watch you, etc. For instance, in a sex club, you can't really control who is there.

I remember my friend and I were frustrated at always being the only young cats at these parties and having to deal with the old people ogling us. So we started HAVEN, which was our version of Fight Club, but for fucking. We'd recruit via Feeld, FetLife, Tinder and whatnot. It's probably why I'm still banned on Tinder to this day. When we found someone we liked, we'd send them to the group chat for approval. I'd supply snacks. My friend would supply the lube, condoms and baby wipes—we used to call him the orgy grandma. We'd let everyone mingle for an hour or two, then announce “no pants time” at midnight. I'd usually get the ball rolling, maybe start with a girl to turn everyone on. Afterwards, we'd typically debrief at IHOP. The rest is history.

“No pants time” is kind of adorable. And it brings up another important aspect of planning a great orgy, which is the whole idea of making guests feel comfortable. What kind of icebreakers would you suggest to help get the party started?

Rule number one: Go against all standard party rules. It's cool to be early. It's awkward to be late—kinda hard to get into it when everyone's already balls-deep. That's why we always have a cocktail hour where everyone mingles before “no pants time.” Honestly, board games are a great icebreaker: Uno. Connect 4. Something to make you laugh and open up.

What are some of the seemingly small yet crucial details that go into planning an orgy?

There needs to be hot guys. Sorry, don't care. It doesn't matter if there are a million hot girls—if there are only four guys, and they all look like weird sugar daddies, then the vibe isn't curated.

The consent conversation is obvious. Snacks shouldn't be smelly or savory; stick with sweet and handheld. Be discreet—no wandering around the parking lot naked, no phones, and get your guests to sign an NDA for added protection.

There was this one place called Club Labyrinth [CA] where a tiny Asian guy would be running around all night frantically replacing the sheets every time people fucked on them. That might be a lot, but at least lay down a towel if you're gonna make a mess. And pick up your used condoms!

Finally, it doesn't matter how sexy your place is if you don't have enough furniture. Not sure why, but I've been to a million sex clubs with hundreds of people in attendance and only four beds. Soft surfaces are a must, cushions or mats at the very least!

How does one create an inviting ambiance?

Sexy lighting. It feels so weird when it's in a hotel room and all the lights are on. Music is great, but not too loud. Remember, this isn't the club. I'm a fan of theme parties: tuxedos, lingerie, whatever. One thing I hate is when guys show up in sweatpants. Ewww!

What is an instant vibe killer at an orgy?

Pushy, selfish, insecure, entitled behavior from anyone. This is a celebration of pleasure, not a competition.

I know it's impossible to pick a favorite, but for learning purposes, let's focus on your recent birthday orgy. Looking back, what made it so special?

I've done countless sex performances, but they're not documented. At my birthday party, however, I didn't take phones—I wanted the moment immortalized by real friends, people I love and trust. While some performances are meant to be beautiful, sensual and quiet, this was a high-energy experience. I wanted it to feel like a boxing ring, and it did—everyone was screaming, cheering and losing their minds. It was electric.

XXX awards shows and adult expo events must be like the Olympic Village: a nonstop sexathon where everyone is gorgeous and at the peak of their sexuality. Am I wrong?

Nope, that's exactly what happens. I always look forward to awards shows for this exact reason: It's like The Avengers of sluts. Just freaking awesome.

Has your indomitable sense of adventure ever gotten you into trouble?

Honestly, not yet. I did accidentally get involved with Elysium, which some say was a cult, but I honestly had a good time!

STEPHANIE LOVE

Stephanie Love LOVES orgies. She's done a threeway creampie cum-swap in Tulum, got a medieval dick-down in Estonia and fucked countless husbands on the Hotwife Tour—all before breakfast. Unicorns do exist, and they're here to fuck. Teach us, teacher!

HUSTLER: Your introduction to the wonderful world of orgies and group sex is unlike anything I've ever heard of. Were you really a hype girl at sex parties back in your hometown? What does that even mean?

STEPHANIE LOVE: I got hired to walk around giving out free condoms, free shots, make sure everybody was safe and having a good time, etc. They would rent out three floors of a hotel and pay girls to walk around, making sure everything is good. They had security too, but we were there to help people have fun. I never participated, but I did enjoy watching!

Is that when the seed was planted?

A little bit, yeah. >>

You made your adult industry debut in 2022, then experienced your first orgy in 2023. Since then, you've been in over 20 orgies. I guess it's safe to say you're a fan?

I like having multiple people at once, with me or inside of me. Honestly, it's a lot of fun. It's something I've really enjoyed ever since I became a sexual person.

Let's revisit the first orgy you ever planned. As sexy locations go, you can't do much better than the Yucatán Peninsula!

That was last year [April 2025], in Tulum. First, I had to find people who were willing to fly out. I found one guy who was willing to help me set up the whole thing. Then we connected with another girl who did a few posts and some private porn star Telegram outreach. We were six in total—a few people backed out at the very last minute—sharing a beautiful villa and a yacht!

For the shoot, we had a few cameras set up to catch different angles, and all the men held cameras to capture the POV angle. It ended up being a fantastic video and a great vacation!

That's the how, why and where, but what made it so special?

We did do a threeway cum swap where two of the men came inside me and then two other girls ate it out of me. Then we all made out, sharing the cum between us. It was really hot! [Laughing.]

I have to ask you about the Hotwife Tour you did as a solo participant, aka unicorn. Those orgies look wild!

I fucked a lot of husbands! My favorite was a 22-person orgy—11 men and 11 women. I wanted to break my record of sleeping with nine men and made it my absolute mission to make sure that I took every single penis inside of me. Even after they called “cut” and the orgy had pretty much ended, I did not stop. I kept running around fucking everybody, making sure every single person touched me or was inside me in some way. I was very proud of myself that day.

Everyone loves a unicorn. Do you enjoy your rarified status?

So much. So long as there is a mutual respect between me and the wife and she's okay with it, then I absolutely love it. It is so much fun fucking other women's husbands.

What are you looking for in a prospective guest? Who are the right people for you?

I tend to go with people I know, people I've met previously and vibe with. If I'm setting up an orgy, I want it to be with people I can count on for a good time. That way there's nobody coming in who's going to throw off the vibe and kill our fun.

Do you have any favorite icebreakers for getting people out of their shells?

Towards the beginning, as everybody is mingling and getting to know each other, there's usually this moment where guests come together and voice what turns them on and what not to do. And that helps people open up, talking about what makes them come or how they like—or don't like—to be touched.

Consent at an orgy is not just one conversation, but an ongoing conversation with different people who have different boundaries. Before you touch anyone, just ask, “Is this okay?” If you're with someone new or trying something new and feel unsure whether or not they'll like it, just ask: “Is it okay if I fist you?” “Is it okay if we double-vag you?” [Laughing.] Everyone is into what they're into, and you should never assume.

For example, I don't allow guys to pull my hair because I have hair extensions. I also don't allow guys to pinch my nipples; some girls like it, but I find it painful. You really need to be vocal; otherwise you might end up in a situation that makes you feel uncomfortable. You want to enjoy your experience, and that requires clear communication from the get-go.

How does it work in terms of security? Who makes sure everyone is safe and on their best behavior?

Every time I've been at a swinger event, a big event that wasn't on camera, there were always bouncers or some sort of security—every single time. I've even seen security at a private residence, where guests wear wristbands to help identify who should and shouldn't be there. Oftentimes wristbands will be used to confirm who has been tested, and security will help enforce compliance. They're making sure everyone is safe.

Let's not forget about the importance of hygiene.

Definitely take a shower beforehand. Nobody is going to shame you for taking a shower. But they will shame you for having smelly balls. Make sure you're clean from head to toe, and sexy fun will follow!

Is it true that you've done an orgy in an Estonian warehouse?

Yes! It was a shoot for a sex-reality TV show [Warehouse-X/QueenX]. It was definitely medieval, because I think they said it was built in the 1500s? Probably one of my hottest orgies to date.

ZARIAH AURA

How many orgies? How much time have you got? Zariah Aura is exactly the kind of friend you want in your corner at a play party: conscientious, compassionate and committed to pleasure—hers, yours and everyone's. Furniture is for the weak!

HUSTLER: Your first foray into orgies is quite literally a steamy story.

ZARIAH AURA: I was about 19 at the time, in a Colorado Springs bathhouse with a bunch of older men. I was young and had no idea what I was getting into or where it would all lead me.

What has changed since then? Do you enjoy orgies more now than you did before?

I do. Since joining the [adult entertainment] industry, I've come to understand myself in a way I never did before. The level of consent in the play world, especially within this community, is so important and something that I never even knew I had control over. Back then, I didn't have the experience to know that I had the power. I can give consent, and I can revoke consent. Before adult, I would find myself in these situations that I didn't enjoy. I would do it because I thought I had to. Now I know that consent starts and ends with me. I enjoy myself now and feel a lot safer than I've ever felt.

Not only are you a very talented performer; you're also a very good friend. Tell us about the big birthday orgy you masterminded and how you did it with only a couch and one barstool.

I'm going to name-drop here, because he's amazing and a great friend of mine: Rodrigo Amor. He helped me discover my sexual power. Rodrigo has curated so many orgies and play spaces that I just had to do something for him in return.

It all began with our closest friends, the people who care the most. We were able to bring together some of the hottest—and freakiest—people he loves. This was way back when we first moved into our apartment and had no furniture except for a couch and a barstool. But hot people will do hot-people things anywhere; it doesn't matter what kind of space you have. I was playing the role of director and commanded my players to do this and that, suck her here and fuck him there—consensually, of course—as I sat and watched the whole event unfold.

There are two very important takeaways here: One, work with what you have. And two, it takes great chemistry to have a great orgy.

The chemistry is always the most important ingredient. It takes more than ambiance to bring the sexual energy that happens when you have the right mix of people. It didn't matter that we didn't even have a table at the time; it didn't matter that we didn't have a bar or the food you see at other parties. No one cared. At the end of the day, all we cared about was having fun with each other. It was a beautiful experience, and I can't stop thinking about it.

Are you that person at an orgy who is always checking in on people?

Most definitely. I want to make sure that everybody is having fun. The first thing that I'm going to do is come up to you and make sure you're okay: "Are you comfortable? Do you like this? Do you want this? Should we do more? Should we step back?" Sometimes people "push through" and do things they may not necessarily enjoy, like how I used to. Being vulnerable is scary, but it can also be powerful. And when you have somebody there who you know and trust, you can feel safe knowing it's you who has the power.

Obviously you could put together an amazing orgy at the drop of a hat, but what about us folx who have no idea where to start? How does one manifest their first orgy?

It takes a lot of communication and a lot of conversation. Involve and educate yourself on how these spaces operate. Once you have that knowledge, you can go about creating your own experience. And remember, the people you're playing with should all be people who make you feel comfortable, sexy and confident.

What are some of the little things one must take into account when hosting?

Make sure you have enough designated areas where people can clean themselves off, before and after. There should be enough towels for everybody and enough lighting to find your way around. Consider signage to indicate where guests can and cannot go.

When you're planning your guest list, you need to vet everybody. If you have testing protocols in place, a group chat is a great way to make sure everybody has their paperwork in order. If you are renting a space, then make sure it's booked well in advance; there's nothing worse than a venue falling through at the last minute. >>

On-site, you'll want to have a good amount of lube. Believe me, it really changes a space when everyone has run out! I have a five-gallon tub of lube that I always bring with me. Provide ample protection. Some people are there to do penetrative stuff, while others prefer BDSM. I recommend a designated area for the latter.

You wouldn't think that an orgy could just happen without weeks, even months of advance planning, but you proved us all wrong with your impromptu 2025 New Year's orgy.

[Laughing.] Okay, so me and my husband were invited to this New Year's event. We were hanging out by the fire. I'm making out with pretty girls. That's when we decided to move the party over to the couch. People started to get a little naked—I think I was the first one to take off my clothes—and there were hands everywhere. We were completely enamored with each other, so much so that no one noticed the countdown had begun. There I was, completely naked when the ball dropped. Then my balls dropped!

We went straight back to playing, and a few more people joined in to make it an even bigger orgy. The crazy thing is that it was at Siri Dahl's new house. She loved it even though she wasn't part of it—and she hadn't even had sex on that couch yet! She was just so happy that it had happened. It was so hot, and we didn't want it to end.

It takes a certain je ne sais quoi to harness the energy in a room and turn it into sex magic. What makes you the secret ingredient that sets it all in motion?

Well, thank you, I love being a secret ingredient! I think it all has to do with that magical word: consent. Having that conversation with everybody helps make it happen.

RAY RAY

She may be a gangbang girl at heart, but Ray Ray will always love orgies. The prolific performer and content creator has seen it all, from Columbus to London and even on the high seas. But no matter where you go or who you're with, consent and good grooming are king.

HUSTLER: You've been in a lot of orgies, but I believe your official title is "Queen of the Gangbangs." This is a good opportunity to define our terms: What's the difference between a gangbang and an orgy?

RAY RAY: It really depends on the individual. For a gangbang, sometimes it's three guys; sometimes it's five guys. For me, it's five guys and one woman. I can take five guys any time. An orgy, however, is more evenly split—more balanced. Equal numbers. In an orgy you would have six guys and six girls, four girls and four guys, etc.

Do you remember your first orgy?

I was in London, England, and decided to check out a Killing Kittens event. It was a masquerade party, so we all had to wear masks—for the first hour, at least. I got busy mingling, and after the hour was up, we were ushered into an area that was nothing but beds. Soon the whole room was full of people playing and all combinations of bodies. I could see, smell and hear sex all around me. It was super intense.

What about your best orgy? Is there one that stands out above all the others?

I've done several at a swingers club near where I live in Columbus. I really like this attractive group that I got in with, and every now and then I'll go to one of their parties. I remember one night in particular, bouncing around from couple to couple and just having a really great time.

Speaking of having a really great time, it all begins with consent. Any tips?

Before you do anything, you need to have the consent talk. "What are your ground rules? What do you like? What do you not like?" Some people use a white board to post people's likes and dislikes, and room monitors—who don't play at all—are there to make sure everyone is safe.

I like the idea of a designated monitor who makes sure everyone is on their best behavior.

It helps to have someone in your corner. It can be a trusted friend, a partner—somebody who has your best interests at heart. They are there to protect your consent. The room monitor knows the rules and is there to look out for you.

Why should I think twice about hosting an orgy in open waters, on a boat?

I've done a swingers cruise, and that was a lot of fun, but there are challenges. One time we tried to do an orgy on a $2-million yacht, and everyone got sick.

We got six girls and six guys to come out on this boat. It was supposed to be a scene about sorority girls having a reunion, and as we're filming the intro, one of the girls runs past the cameraman, saying how she was gonna puke. Then three more women threw up. It got really bad, so we cut it short and filmed it in our hotel room instead. Definitely one I won't soon forget.

Land or sea, having sex with multiple people eats up a lot of energy. What kind of refreshments should you serve to your guests?

You'll want to provide finger foods more than anything else; nothing crazy. I've seen a lot of orgy parties and swinger parties with cheese platters, veggie trays, cookies, sometimes pizza—pizza is pretty common. They had caviar and champagne at the Killing Kittens party; I tried it, and it was not for me. And I've never been to an orgy that was fully catered, like steak or pasta. It should be low-key and easy to eat.

Is it frowned upon to drink or do drugs—to excess or even at all?

To consent, you should be sober. You should want to do something sober, whether it's an orgy, a threesome or a gangbang. It should turn you on when you're sober. I understand having a drink or two to break the ice and be social; I think that's fine. But I have seen instances where it's too much and people are falling down the stairs and breaking things in people's homes. I like to be in control.

I bet you have some very strong opinions about hygiene and cleanliness.

I do, yes! I've done a lot of orgies and gangbangs, and let me tell you, it's never the women. Women are very clean—in my experience, most women are very put together. Sometimes the guys don't trim correctly, or they don't shower, or there's some sort of hygiene issue. Some guys need to put on some deodorant. I don't want anyone to be touching my pussy or my ass without washing their hands—that's a hard rule for me.

Sounds like a great way to filter out undesirables from the guest list.

Right? It should be common sense. Wash, trim, wax, whatever you do. Before you touch someone, wash your hands. Be respectful.

Being an adult performer has its advantages, especially when planning an orgy. But what about the orgy-curious and inexperienced? How does one connect with like-minded adults in the wild?

Definitely look into local swingers clubs in your area. Keep in mind that it's a lot harder for single guys to get in and a lot easier for women and couples. FetLife is a great site to help set up events, connect with groups, do munches—things like that, where you can also learn about the lifestyle. That's how I got started: by connecting with organizers who do that sort of thing.

Bottom line, an orgy isn't just gonna fall in your lap. You have to put yourself out there and be open to it. I wish orgies were more common, but you're not going to find one sitting at home.

FAIRE PLAY

Founded in 2023, Faire is an adult industry community network based in L.A. They provide resources and promote representation in support of sex workers and their advocacy. They also host Sunday Faire, a weekly event where porn folk are invited to get their freak on at “Aether” parties: a safe, consensual space for open-minded adults who like to get wild. Do orgies happen? Definitely. Are they conducted according to the highest standards? You better believe it. Faire Executive Director and PASS Program Manager Kasey Warner explains what it takes to do it right and why they work so hard to meet the expectations of their discerning members.

HUSTLER: What is Faire, and why now?

KASEY WARNER: Everyone wants to fuck like a porn star, but hardly anyone cares about the rights and safety of our community. People need to wake up to the realities of sex worker discrimination and the difficulties they face in accessing the financial, legal or health resources required to build stability. Even finding resources that meet their specific needs can be a challenge.

Following the OnlyFans boom and how it brought adult entertainment into the spotlight, it is more important than ever to elevate sex workers. We want their voices to be heard, to have a say in both the business and regulation of adult entertainment.

Faire offers a twofold approach: supporting and uplifting sex workers with fun events and educational tools, while providing fact-based content aimed at nonindustry people who may have a skewed idea of what sex work is.

No one knows more about safe play than sex workers. What are the testing requirements for an Aether party?

The playroom we provide at Aether, the XXX Lounge, requires a full-panel STI test and consent paperwork. We definitely focus a lot on safety and making sure that everything is up to porn star standards. Sex workers are generally much more educated and practiced with safety and consent in sexual situations, so we try to meet the expectatations of our very experienced guests.

How do you curate a space that is both inviting and functional?

We are catering to the most experienced sexual athletes in the world. Not only do we insist on full PASS Certified testing panels for all XXX Lounge guests; we also make sure to provide a variety of contraceptives and toiletries to freshen up—before and after play. Preparation and aftercare are just as important as the sexy time itself!

What kind of feedback do you get from Aether party guests?

They love it! It feels fantastic to host a space dedicated to sex workers and performers who don't want to be gawked at in public. It's reminiscent of the parties we used to have, pre-OnlyFans, where the focus was on creating connection and community. And if an orgy broke out, it was just for the fun of it!

Guests are able to play safely and privately, as much or as little as they want in an environment that celebrates sex workers and open sexuality. At one Aether party, some guests were having fun past the end of the party, and to gently nudge them out the door, we started playing “Closing Time” by Semisonic! Creating a space where sex workers feel so welcome and comfortable means everything to us.

For a group experience that is safe, sane and sexy, what can we learn from sex workers?

Communicate! People get so fixated on sex that they'll glaze over or avoid important safety and consent talks in an attempt to “play it cool,” when in fact there is nothing cooler than understanding the needs, boundaries and desires of the people you want to connect with. Sex is the most fun when everyone feels comfortable and considered. Sex workers are used to navigating these complex spaces, so we're able to have a lot more fun as a result! Don't ever feel nerdy or uncool for taking the time to have open discussions about sexual intimacy—there's nothing hotter than taking care of all of someone else's needs.

FETISH-FRIENDLY

PHOTOGRAPHY BY
LARRY FLYNT PRODUCTIONS

I was a fetish model before getting into porn, and I still fully indulge my kinky side—I definitely don't shy away from taboos. One of my biggest kinks is feet. I can't count how many footjobs I've given, and I sell my shoes and socks to fans. It goes both ways too—I love guys' feet. They're so sexy!

"Another favorite fetish for me is dishing out humiliation. I can get really bratty with that. It's interesting; you might think that guys who are into being degraded are meek, mild types, but my humiliation clients are very diverse—everything from alpha males to super-submissives. You really learn a lot in this line of work!

"Also, this might sound strange, since I'm kind of petite, but I do a lot of gigantess content, playing a gigantic woman who towers over and dominates puny men. That's a big thrill for my fans in more ways than one!"

PAULA

HUSTLER CLASSIC
JUNE 1983

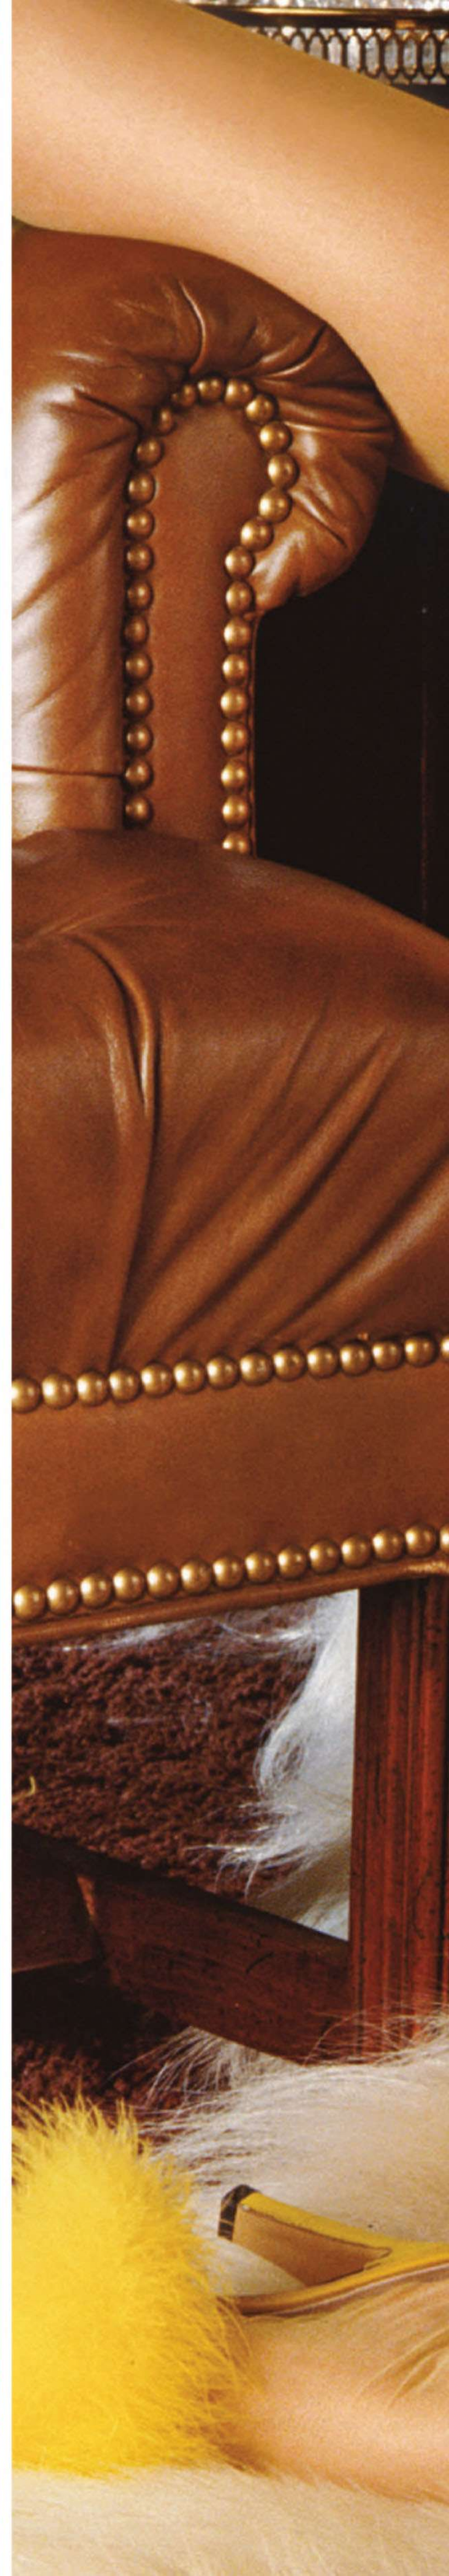

PHOTOGRAPHY BY

I know it sounds crazy," says Paula, "but I think curling up with a good book is incredibly sexy." That's why the luscious 20-year-old asked to be photographed in the room where she does all her studying.

"It's really a den, but I consider it my private study," she says. "I like to hole up here all by myself and enjoy a little fantasizing. With a book I can be anyone I want, any time and any place I want." Moving from a cool leather chair to the soft fur rug on the floor, she adds, "Books are kind of like sexual time machines for me." But there is more to Paula's life than just reading. "I'm keeping my eyes open for a real man," she confides. "But he doesn't have to be a bookworm to satisfy me."

EMILY PINK

"I absolutely love modeling nude and being a porn actress," proclaims Emily Pink, 26, from Medellin, Colombia. "I'm following my dreams, and both professions make me feel good about myself." The 5-foot-2 hottie goes on to tell us, "I'm a happy-go-lucky woman. I like to have fun, be sexy, go to parties and meet people. I also like watching movies, making videos for my social media platforms and cooking." After relocating to Prague, Czechia—Europe's XXX mecca—Emily has blossomed as a highly praised performer who's wilder and kinkier than she ever imagined she could be. "I've already crossed my limits," Emily admits, a subtle reference to her fondness of DPs, mini-gangbangs and even an occasional golden shower.

“I love to masturbate as I take a shower, and I often dream about getting fucked doggy-style out in the countryside when it’s raining cats and dogs!”

Birthday Delights

For some truly delectable eye candy, we've rounded up five Beavers celebrating birthdays in April. "I wanted to model nude because I'm pretty comfortable with my body," said Naomi Ryder from Stockton, California. "And I thought I'd look even better in a magazine, especially HUSTLER; it's one of my favorites and definitely iconic!" Entice Love from Sacramento, California, once motivated prospective customers as a visual merchandiser for big-name clothing stores. Then she became keen on becoming a visual and amorous delight in the adult industry "All the women in HUSTLER are so-o-o beautiful," the bombshell cooed. "I want to be a part of the inspiration." Graphic artist Genevieve Sinn from Salem, Massachusetts, told us, "Being featured in HUSTLER was one of my goals as I began a sideline career in the adult industry." How's this for a few graphic revelations? "I've had sex in restaurants, parks and other public places. When I want dick or pussy, it doesn't matter where I am. I especially love sucking a big cock and being eaten out until I come. Then we can start fucking." Lily Charms—a catering coordinator from San Diego, California—avowed, "Men take one look into my eyes, and they want me. I like having guys look at me. That's why I stripped for a while. I like being naughty." Bodacious Elizabeth Romanova divulged, "I grew up in Nisko, Poland, and I now live in Northamptonshire, England. Ever since my cherry was popped, I've been mad for cock. I really fancy being treated like a total slut." Happy birthday, ladies

"I've had sex in many zany places all over Europe, even fucking in a train's toilet. That was very kinky and exciting."

KAYLA ROSE

"I'm an optimistic, cheerful woman with a heart of gold," says Kayla Rose, 27, an aspiring model from Carson City, Nevada. "I'm into being a giver of hope, friendship and love. I constantly strive to enlighten others in a positive way and bring joy to every situation I'm in." What could be more joyful than getting to see the 5-foot-9 Silver Stater disrobe and talk readily about her personal interests and sex life? "I'm a true-blue country girl," Kayla Rose asserts, "and I have a tattoo that proves it. I love country music, stock car racing and hosting poker parties with my most masculine buddies. The guy with the most chips when it's time to call it quits gets me." Here's what's in store for the lucky card player: "My sexuality is best described as adventurous, energetic and submissive. I really love having my pussy licked. That always revs me up for a good, hard fucking. My favorite position is doggy-style. There's something about being on all fours or bent over a couch and begging a hunk to screw me as hard as he likes. It really makes me feel like a desirable woman."

—Photos by Tony F.

"My fantasy is having hours and hours of sex with a hot guy on the deck of a sailboat gliding back and forth across Lake Tahoe."
